

January 4, 2017

Dear Parents,

I hope you all had a wonderful Christmas vacation. It has been so much fun listening to the children sharing great stories about their Christmas vacation adventures. You made them very happy!!!

I was blessed to become a first time grandma during vacation. Lincoln Noah Hoard was born on Christmas Eve. I had the good fortune to be able to help my son and daughter-in-law out for a few days and I was once again reminded of the Miracle of birth and the extreme joy that God gives each of us in our daily life. I certainly hope that JOY was present in your lives too.

Happy 2017 to each of you. I pray that this New Year will bring you good health, answered prayers and lots of happiness.

The students in 4K did a great job today at church considering it was their first time attending church at Nativity with all the older kids. We had wigglers and some questions which were very much expected anytime we start something new. Thank you parents of 4K students for remembering to change your Wednesday morning routine to include a drop off at Nativity Church on Wednesday mornings. This will continue for the remainder of the school year.

We are starting off the year with a couple "routine" weeks, which is nice to get back in the swing of the regular school day. Of course, with the Packers moving on to the playoffs, we invite everyone to share in a Packers Day on Friday, January 6. This will be a non-uniform Green and Gold Day.

GO PACK GO...

Sincerely,

Carol Hoard
